

The image displays four separate screenshots of Korean real estate websites arranged side-by-side. Each screenshot shows a different layout and design for listing a property for sale or rent. The top-left site features a green circular logo and a large blue header. The top-right site has a yellow circular logo and a blue header. The bottom-left site has a blue circular logo and a white header. The bottom-right site has a grey circular logo and a white header. All sites include contact information, property details, and small profile pictures of agents.